

Welcome to the Toronto Japanese Language School!

We offer 8 levels from beginner to advanced level in the Adult Program. If you are familiar with the Japanese-Language Proficiency Test or CEFR, you can refer to the chart below and determine which class you want to take. You can also look at our course outlines for detail on the curricula. You are welcome to select your class based on this in the registration form. Please note that you are able to change your class during the first two weeks.

- N1-N5 indicates that this class helps to prepare for the indicated level of the Japanese-Language Proficiency Test
- A1Low-B2High indicates CEFR (Common European Framework of Reference for Languages) level. Each level will be achieved towards the end of the school year.

If you prefer to have your level assessed, please select a writing assignment that you think suits your level from the attached and complete it by hand (not typed). Submit this by the due date below and you will be contacted for the speaking assessment. This be done via Zoom and will take about 10 minutes. This assessment is just a guideline to find your starting point and you can change classes within the first 2 weeks. The due dates are:

July 18th for Early Registration

August 28th for General Registration

If you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to contact the Adult Class Coordinator, Kozumi Miya-Woolford, at kozumi.miya@tjls.ca regarding the placement test. Other enquiries, please reach out info@tjls.ca.
